

01 Anthropology

- Holistic understanding of human groups through time and space.
- Field work experience with application of research methodology to understand socio-economic issues of different communities.
- Understanding human variation in terms of archaeology, biology and culture.
- Application of anthropological knowledge in human development.